HILLSIDE CENTRE VICTORIA, BC

Hillside Centre is 589,780 square foot enclosed regional centre located in the heart of Victoria. The centre is anchored by Canadian Tire and a new urban format 2 level Walmart as well as other major tenants including a new 15,000 square foot Dollarama, Thrifty Foods, Marshall's, Sport Chek, and Bolen Books, a local institution and the largest independent book retailer in Canada.

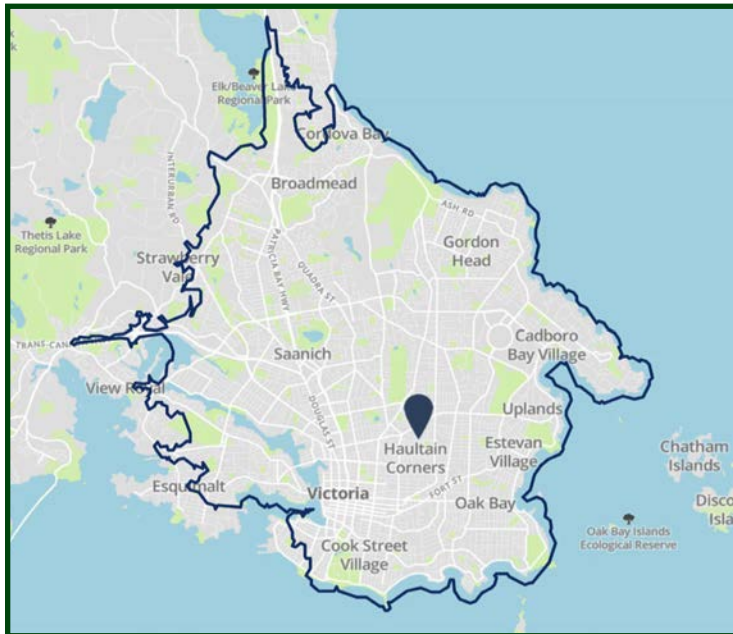

Hillside Centre is well-positioned on the crossroads to a number of affluent and vibrant neighborhoods including Oak Bay, Saanich and Oaklands, and draws from a Primary Trade Area of just over 200,000 people within a 13-minute drive time. It is also the closest regional shopping centre, less than 3 km away, from both the University of Victoria and Camosun College, with a combined student population of over 55,000 plus faculty and staff and is less than 2 km away from Royal Jubilee Hospital with over 3,500 full time employees.

In addition to catering to students, the Centre serves as an optimal one-stop shopping destination for the savvy middle-aged Victorian resident appreciating convenience and value, through its diverse mix of services, food vendors and retail tenants.
