SUNWOOD SQUARE

COQUITLAM, BC

Sunwood Square is the dominant open community centre in the Coquitlam Town Centre trade area. Bisected by two civic thoroughfares in addition to its proximity to the Lougheed Highway and Westwood Street arteries, Sunwood Square offers superior access and parking availability in this affluent, established, yet still growing, trade area. Sunwood Square was extensively renovated in 2009.

Translink's completion of the Millennium Line Evergreen Extension, which opened at the end of 2016, brought an increase in demand on the residential front. The Evergreen Extension connects Coquitlam City Centre through Port Moody to Lougheed Town Centre and onwards to Vancouver. In addition a significant number of residential condominium towers have been built within the vicinity with several others currently in the planning stages or under construction. Sunwood Square is well positioned at the heart of the growth within Coquitlam Town Centre.
